ATTENTION OTOLARYNGOLOGY MEMBERS:

I am forwarding information regarding board review courses and materials for the sleep medicine CAQ (see below). These were some of the materials recommended in my lecture given during the recent Annual Clinical Assembly. Please note that the AASM is sponsoring these courses. The fee is greater for non-members. I am a member, so if someone needs me to order a book or DVD from them, I would be happy to do so. Thanks

Webinars

Webinar Archive CD-ROMs

AASM Sleep Education Series webinars provide viewers with timely information on the latest topics in the sleep medicine field. These 1-hour CD-ROM-based lectures, led by renowned sleep medicine professionals, allow viewers to learn about relevant issues in sleep medicine from their own home or office. Slides appear in the center of the screen, the audio portion includes the moderator, speaker and questions from the participants, and a chat room contains comments from the participants. The archives run in real time and navigation is allowed.

Whether a novice or an expert in the field of sleep medicine and sleep research, the AASM offers you an extensive collection of archived webinars sold individually or as discounted boxed sets of all webinars in the series. Below are all the webinar archive series topics available:
